

THE INSURANCE TRIANGLE: THE TRIPARTITE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN
INSURER, INSURED AND THE DEFENSE LAWYER

Prepared by:
Daniel Condon

Roderick S.W. Winsor

BLANEY, McMURTRY, STAPELLS, FRIEDMAN

INSIGHT INFORMATION INC.
APRIL 2, 1996

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1	INTRODUCTION	1
1.1	What is the Insurance Tripartite relationship	1
1.2	Why is the tripartite relationship significant?	2
1.3	History	2
2	CONFLICTS OF INTEREST:	3
2.1	Introduction:	3
2.2	What sort of conflicts exist	4
2.3	What are examples of Conflict situations?	5
2.3.1	where insured's reputation at stake	5
2.3.2	excess claims	5
2.3.3	uninsured third party claims	6
2.3.4	alternative claims, only one insured	6
2.3.5	first party subrogation actions	6
2.3.6	coverage disputes	7
2.3.7	excess insurers	7
3	WHAT ARE THE OBLIGATIONS OF EACH PARTY	8
3.1	What are the sources of the obligations?	8
3.2	Who is the client?	12
3.2.1	The insurer	12
3.2.2	Both the insured and the insurer	13
3.2.3	Only the insured	15
3.2.4	Suggestions for a re-examination of the client issue	16
4	EFFECT OF OBLIGATIONS ON VARIOUS CONFLICT SITUATIONS: how can these conflicts be avoided, resolved or minimized	18
4.1	Coverage issues	18
4.2	Previous involvement of counsel	23

4.3	The duty to defend	26
	4.3.1 Consequences of not defending the insured	28
4.4	Partially insured claims	29
4.5	Claims in Excess of Policy Limits	31
4.6	Conflicts arising out of interest in other claims	40
4.7	Punitive Damages	42
4.8	Possible overlapping coverage	43
5	OTHER PARTIES	44
5.1	Excess Insurers	44
	5.1.1 Their place in the relationship	44
5.2	Independent Counsel	46
	5.2.1 Who selects the Independent Counsel	46
	5.2.2 Who pays for the Independent Counsel	47
	5.2.3 Obligations of the Independent Counsel	50
	5.2.3.1 to the insured	50
	5.2.3.2 to the insurer	50
6	SUMMARY AND RECOMMENDATIONS	51